

Interdependence Day Hexagon Project Themes

- Risks.....Solutions
- Can the processes and products of the arts tip the scales?
 - Can the arts make a difference?
 - What responsibilities do artists, teachers and students have in the mix?

- DIVERSITY
- Free spaces for religious, ethnic, cultural identities
 - Personal and group dignity

- HUMAN RIGHTS of every person
- We are one human family
 - Consumerism vs. having enough
 - Being more not having more

- ENVIRONMENT
- Safe, sustainable global environment
 - We are one earth community
 - We only have one earth to win or lose

- COMMONALITIES
- Policies protecting and expressing human commonality
 - Linking the local with the global
 - Empathv

Interdependence

Goals:

1. To become citizens of one civilized world, recognizing our responsibilities to the common goods and liberties of humankind as a whole.
2. To bring these concepts to high school students via arts.

- CHILDREN
- Protect their rights and goods
 - Health
 - Education

- GOVERNANCE
- Democratic forms
 - Realize common rights
 - Common needs

September 9 is Interdependence Day
Friday, September 3, 2010, the Hexagon Project Exhibit will open at the MAC Gallery, Scranton
Deadline: June 30, 2010
Go to www.interdependencedaynepa.org for complete information and updates